What kids say?

Dear Mr. Able, before I knew you were my teacher I was nervous and really didn't want to do ballroom dancing, but when I walked in the room my mood changed. I enjoyed the lesson because the moves are different than I usually do and are so much fun to do. I'm most excited to do the foxtrot because it sounds different than other dances and I like things that are different because you I love trying new things.

The definition of polite means being kind, respectful, nice and helpful towards other person.

The definition of being respectful is listening to the person that is talking to you, being nice, and helping others.

Mi opinion sobre el baile es que aprendi mucho, la verdad es que
a mi me encanta bailar desde los 4 años yo empese a bailar
la maestra que toca es
demaciado cool, es muy buena persona
la verdad yo de grande quiero
ser maestra de bailar aunque
alos niños no les gusta
yo bailo como si no me
importara y me encanta bailar

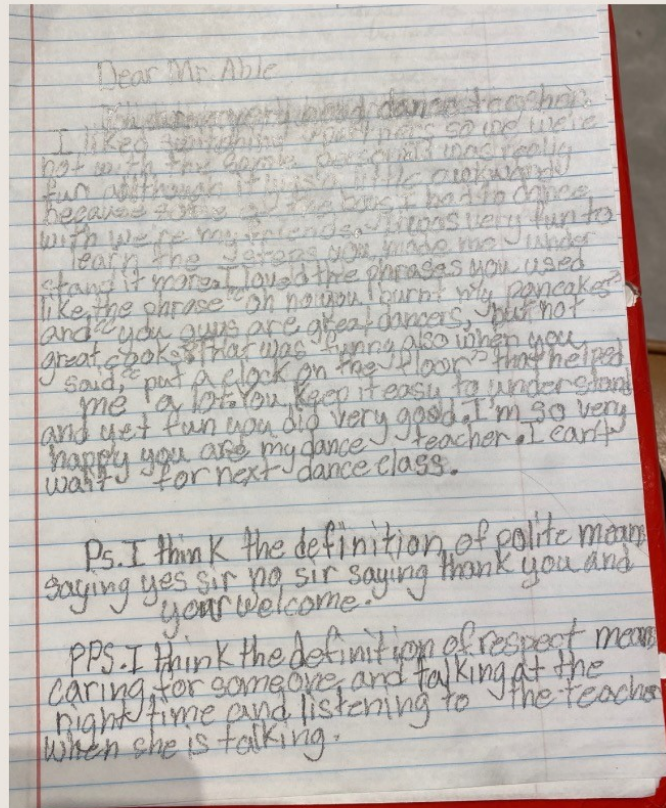

My opinion about dancing is that I learned a lot. The truth is that I love dancing since I was 4 years old. I started dancing. The teacher I play is too cool. She is a very good person. The truth is that when I grow up I want to be a dance teacher, although the children They don't like me, I dance like I don't care and I love to dance.

At first, I was very nervous and scared but these fun teachers such as Mr. Abel made me feel comfortable. I started liking it a bit even though I thought I wouldn't what I really liked about it was that Mr. Abel taught us in a slow comfortable pace. I like now because it's a nice piece for everyone since fast is a bit too. Stressful and slow is more calm which is really helpful. Overall, I'd like the lesson since I got comfortable. Thank you. ♥

Being polite is having well behaved manners and having a respectful posture no matter where you are.

Being respectful is helping others at something they aren't good at such as a certain dance or work.

Dear Mr. Able

You are a very good dance teacher. I liked switching partner so we're not with the same person. It was really fun although it was a little awkward because some of the boys I had to dance with were my friends. It was very fun to learn the steps you made me understand it more. I loved the phrases you used like the phrase "oh no you burnt my pancakes" and "you guys are great dancers but not great cooks that was funny also when you said "put a clock on the floor" that helped me a lot. You keep it easy to understand and yet fun you did very good. I am so very happy you are my dance teacher. I can't wait for the next dance class.

Ps. I think the definition of polite means saying yes sir no sir saying thank you and your welcome.

Pps. I think the definition of respect means caring for someone and talking at the right time and listening to the teacher when she is talking.
